FUNDING
PLEDGE

The Sainsbury Management Fellowship (SMF) is the MBA scholarship scheme of ESBF (a registered charity that promotes the importance and value of business education for engineers and scientists). The charitable objectives are to advance education and training for the public benefit in particular, but not exclusively by:

a) promoting business education for those working in engineering, science and related fields to develop their skills in innovation, better management and governance;

b) creating and operating a charitable fund for the support of their continuing education;

c) developing a network of individuals who have engaged in such education in order to illustrate its merits for the public benefit.

Congratulations on receiving an SMF Award, the receipt of funding for your MBA is only the start of your life-long association with the SMF. The SMF operates an active and supportive alumni network, markets “engineering and science”, contributes thought-pieces to national media, mentors young engineers and scientists and provides opportunities for further development, among many other activities. This list is only likely to grow as the SMF continues to expand.

The SMF has also begun to work towards self-sufficiency in terms of funding future Awards and has an active fundraising committee.

The SMF can only operate in this way with the on-going and active support of alumni.

Therefore, in exchange for funding your award, we expect you to pledge your support for the SMF by:

- Helping to fund the day-to-day running costs of the Fellowship
- Assisting with the promotion of the scholarship scheme by contributing to Q&A case studies in print and/or video stories on your award and your MBA experience whilst at business school and beyond
- Helping to raise funds for the ESBF charity by contacting existing members who will be assigned to you to ask for donations
- Setting up a direct debit for a monthly donation, to support future SMF scholarships. A monthly sum of £80 is suggested.

We hope that in the future if able, you will pass back your scholarship in real terms to the next generation of recipients.

And, where and when possible, we expect you to pledge your support for the SMF through various activities, which currently include:

- Helping to interview candidates for the Sainsbury Management Fellowship Awards
- Mentoring recipients of the Award, as required
- Attending networking events, such as the AGM and annual dinner
- Supplying the Fellowship with contact details/ suggestions for guests to enrich networking at events
- Supporting the Royal Academy of Engineering or the National Physical Laboratory, by attending the candidate selection and annual events, as required
- Considering contributing to the governance of the organisation as a committee member or a trustee of the ESBF charity, as personal time allows, and as required.

Before your Award can be paid to you, we must have a colour photo (head and shoulders shot) of you which is over 1MB. We will also require your completed SMF Awardees Q&A Document.

We would also ask you to sign up for your monthly donation via this link to the SMF website.

We suggest £80 per month but the amount is at your discretion:
